SHAWN CAMP & BILLY BURNETTE/Bluegrass Elvises V. 1:
Nothing like the joy of not caring what the neighbors think.
The hit writing duo reaches back into their back pages finding an Elvis commonality, mixes their similar backgrounds and tastes and comes out with hard charging bluegrass takes on classic Elvis in time for the 30th anni of his shuffling off. Bluegrass, blues, country and all that related stuff was all in the same melting pot back then so nothing is radical here, just fun. Pros off looking for a busman's holiday find the motherlode and do a great job of making something that should have been a goof quite a serious good time.
